By L.F. Handley, County Secretary

Their reduced participation in county events did not, as might have been expected, encourage the ordinary player to seize upon his improved chances of success but, rather, induced in him an apathy towards participation at all. In recent years, however, the status of certain county events has received improved recognition and there are signs of a resurgence of old enthusiasms.

The Committee are trying to improve communication with the clubs by holding an annual meeting of club Secretaries and this has been welcomed. Let us hope that the prospect of the European Championships being held on our doorstep in our own Jubilee Year will act as a new stimulus to bridge in Kent.
