

Anne Carroll

I lost my sister, Anne Mulholland Carroll, on 7th October 2020, after a mercifully short illness. Age wise she was my closest sister but we were also best friends.

We were members of Malahide Bridge Club for over 30 years. I had no intention of learning bridge, but after Anne had taken a few lessons she decided that I had to join her and be her partner. It was one of the best decisions she made and brought us many years of happiness, not least because of the number of good friends we made there.

Anne suffered from dementia for several years prior to her death. However, with the love and support of her husband Brendan and children, she coped very well.

May she rest in peace.

Anne was our sister and full of life,
She was a mother, a friend and devoted wife.

She was great at the bridge and full of fun,
Her warmth and loyalty next to none.

We will miss her terribly, a light has gone out,
But we'll meet again, I have no doubt.

But we look to the future for there is no going back,
I know she would wish us to just have the craic.

You're in our prayers and we send you our love,
So "Rest In Peace, Anne, dear sis", 'til we meet above.
