Andrew Robson Master Class

Thursday, 13 October 2016

Andrew Robson, the Bridge Correspondent of The Times and International Bridge player is with us on the 13 October at Guildford Golf Club to give one of his highly-regarded Master Classes in Bridge. Suitable for all levels, the day will comprise a morning session with lunch, lunch and an afternoon session or all day including lunch. Morning Session & Lunch @ £33.00; Lunch & Afternoon Session @ £33.00 or all day @ £48.00.

During the morning he will be covering:

1NT bids in different auctions & Defending v Preempts

1NT bids in different auctions: this common bid has many subtly different meanings. We will learn them and play some interesting contracts (not often 1NT itself though).

The opponents have pre-empted. How do we cope – then use the information they have imparted to our advantage.

During the afternoon he will be covering:

Trick One & Six Pairs Tips

More mistakes are made at trick one – by declarer and defence – than any other. This crucial trick is the focus.

For duplicate players – secrets to success, tactically.

For those of you who have experienced Andrew's Master Classes before, you will know that he gives much, much more than what is included in these simple titles. His 'magic' cards ensure that everybody bids and plays the same hands and then you get the explanation of what should have happened. Questions are very much welcomed by Andrew.

If you are coming for lunch and the afternoon session, please arrive at about 1230, have a drink at the bar and then enjoy your lunch. The morning session will join you later probably just after you have had your main course. The Afternoon session will start promptly at 1415.
