

DEREK ANEAS ..... Obituary

Derek Aneas, who died in 2015 after a short illness, was a very good club and county player who won many tournaments. He played his bridge mostly at Selsdon, Bletchingley and Chipstead, and was noted for his friendly and uncritical behaviour at the table.

Derek had been a maths teacher, and was also a very fine tennis player.