

Thank you for contacting me about my new status with ACBL. That is great news! My Bridge story is simple. I played Bridge in college for a while, then life, work and family took over. When I retired, I decided I wanted to play competitive bridge. I started taking lessons once a week from our Bridge Master, Randy Kenyon. He taught from Audrey Grant's Book 1, 2, and 3. I was able to play for about six weeks before COVID hit the Nation. I turned to the ACBL web site to continue improving my skills. Our club started meeting once a week again this June. I enjoy playing, improving, and seeing old and new friends. I look forward to getting to the next level.
