Takeaways

- The order of popularity of the responses from each region coincided with the average; however, the strength of strongly agree vs. strongly disagree did vary significantly among some regions.

- Any wide difference between opinions on vaccine requirement seemed to fall in line with the geographic region's known stance and not on whether they had attended a tournament.
- 62% either agreed or strongly agreed with the requirement of a vaccine at an NABC; 64% either agreed or strongly agreed with the requirement at a regional/sectional.
- 48% either agreed or strongly agreed with the requirement of a recent vaccine or booster at an NABC; 49% either agreed or strongly agreed with the requirement at a regional/sectional.
- There was little difference in opinion of requirements at an NABC vs. a regional/sectional.
- There was more ambivalence toward the recent vaccination or booster.
- Some wrote in saying that member opinion should not be the basis of the organization's decision.
- Some wrote in saying that requiring a negative test should be an option.
