PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

District 23 At The Nationals

by Bill Schreiber
ALACBU President

What a National Tournament for Jill Myers! She and her teammates, Ed Davis, Mitch Dunitz and Walt Schaefer, improved upon their 2009 finish with a 2nd place finish in the 2010 Open Flight Grand National Teams. Next, Jill and her teammates finished tied for 3rd/4th in the Wagar Womens KO Teams. Jill and her teammates followed that with a win at the Mixed B-A-M Teams. And, to put a topper on it, Jill and teammates were 4th overall in the Roth Open Swiss Teams.

Jill accumulated approximately 293 masterpoints for the tournament, and if her team would have scored just 2 more victory points in the final event, Jill would have won the Fishbein Trophy, which goes to the player winning the most masterpoints at the summer NABC. I cannot remember a woman ever winning this prestigious trophy. Jill came within 9 points of accomplishing it. Way to go, Jill.

Other high finishers in national events from our district included: Reese Milner, 3rd in the Senior Swiss Teams; Ron Feldman, 4th in the Senior Swiss Teams;

Board Minutes From New Orleans

by Rand Pinsky
District Director

The board meetings were arduous at the nationals in New Orleans last month. On the first day of our meetings, after beginning at 9 a.m. and going until 5 p.m., we took a short dinner break and worked until 11:30 that night. The subject matter was "Regionals at Sea" and I was the chairman of the committee. More on this later.

I think that the most important item passed by the board that effects all of our units was the motion dealing with sectional tournaments, scheduling and allocations. The most important portion of this motion states that "If a sanction is submitted less than one year in advance, the unit loses its claim to the dates." I would suggest that all of our units at their next meeting review their sectional dates for at least 2011 and 2012 and submit their sanctions to reserve the dates. Note that the sanction application will be acknowledged immediately, but approval will not be made until one year out. But at least the unit has reserved the date. If there is a conflict, the motion contains a process for resolving the conflict. I can provide more details on this matter if any unit requests to review the entire motion.

Regionals and Sectionals at Sea were very popular topics for discussion at our meetings. There were many opinions about these events, the sponsorships of them, and the financial impact they present. After much discussion, it was voted that Sectionals At Sea are to be allocated only by the ACBL.

As for Regionals at Sea, a very detailed motion was originally presented. The bottom line was that the motion was reduced to stating that "Only the ACBL itself may sponsor or conduct a Regional At Sea." This motion was then deferred with a moratorium on review of future sanction requests for Regionals At Sea received after July 19, 2010. This was important to our district as we are holding a Regional At Sea in April 2011 and this allowed for our sanction to be approved by management.

Another important motion passed was an amendment to the Code of Disciplinary Regulations (CDR). The amendment focused on Section 5.3 which covers disciplinary procedures at tournaments. It also covered Appendix A VI. Post-Hearing Procedures, A. Notification of Discipline and B. Report to the ACBL. I can furnish additional information on this if requested.

Finally, I am pleased to report that my idea to donate some charity money to organizations working with the oil spill was acted upon by the ACBL Charity Foundation. Before the Friday session in New Orleans, the Charity Foundation presented a $5,000 check to the Louisiana SPCA and a $5,000 check to the New Orleans Mission. The press was there to record the donations and the ACBL received some very positive publicity. There were many business items that the board dealt with. I will report on these other matters next month.

It's A Different View From Dummy

I tried to get the twins, Kathy and Ellen to write a short report about non-bridge events in New Orleans. Unfortunately they were both busy and had to postpone the report till next month. Highlights include "The Bug" and "The Room Transfer." If you see them ask about it.

To conclude, even though I have not seen Bill's article, I am sure he has reported on the second place finish of our Grand National Open Team. I also want to wish good luck to Jill Meyers who will be representing the United States in the Buffet Cup to be played next month.

Until next month, if anyone is interested in teaching youth bridge, I am planning a meeting of all of the people who have expressed an interest. You can reach me at pinsky4bridge@earthlink.net.

How time flies when you are busy! The twists and turns of everyday life can put one in uncharted waters. This writer marvels at the skills of unnoticed heroes known as care givers. Professional caregivers make their jobs look easy but until you are thrust into the role of caregiver you have no idea how taxing the arduous task can become. The upside is that there is light at the end of the tunnel as one's loved one begins to recover.

A few of our regularly scheduled games were cancelled because so many of our regular players were on vacation. Most of them were at the beach escaping the heat of the desert although it appears that Mother Nature forgot to turn on the blistering heat that is common in July and August. Weather reporters are presently predicting normal temperatures, so the dog days of summer are yet to come. Sure hope we do not have another exodus to the beach.

At the August Board Meeting, Charles and Beth Morrin were recognized and thanked for their service contributions to our unit. Beth volunteers her time and effort to teach beginning and intermediate bridge lessons. Charles is teaching "Two Over One" to anyone wanting to learn the bidding system. Charles was also appointed to the Board of Directors and was named Web Master. He will coordinate all computer activity thereby limiting the use of the computer to bridge related activities of Unit 556. Henry Roediger was also recognized and thanked for his recycling work on behalf of the unit. Henry and George MacDonald are also very much appreciated for keeping our flowering plants watered, thus making our entry area more attractive.

Rand Pinsky and Marlene Gaspar are exploring the possibility of staging the 2011 Sectional Tournament in Santa Clarita. The greatest obstacle is finding an affordable site large enough to house our tournament. Both Rand and Marlene are very resourceful and hopefully our tournament will return bigger and better than ever.

Want to earn Gold Points at AVBC? An instant match point game will be held on Thursday September 16, 2010 at 6:30 at the Arbor Court Bridge Clubroom, 858 Jackman St, Lancaster 94534. Card fee is $10 and the winner of each direction will earn a gold point and possibly more if you place in the district.

The "Eight is Enough" team game was rescheduled to October 24 because the original date conflicted with the Regional Tournament at Marina Del Rey. This game is also a Unit Game so there will plenty of points to be won. Mark your calendars because we hope see you compete at these interesting games. Unit games are scheduled on September 19, November 21 and December 4. Lunch is served at Unit Games and the card fee of $10 includes the lunch. December's Unit Game is also the Holiday Dinner, annual board meeting and general election. Make your reservations early because the dinner will be catered and an accurate count of attendees is appreciated.

The winners of regular scheduled games were David and Marlene Gaspar on Sunday and Wednesday with 68% and 62.5% games respectively. Tuesday winners were Brad Ward and Marlene with 73.5%, and then Brad paired with Willo Phillips to win on Friday with 66.47%. Thursday night 99er game was won by Chad Challman and Sonja Plahn with 78.15%. At the Thursday morning game at Castaic, Fabian Fang and Everett Dehn won with 70.31%. Rand Pinsky and Douglas Kushner won on Tuesday night at the Bridge Studio in Valencia with 64.69%.

As for the Glendale Sectional, Merry Besvold proved super, with diligent support from board members, in bringing off this 3-day event We thank all of you kindly, with very grateful nods to Vita Press, Karen Arase and Joanne Susuki for their yummy additions to the cookie counter, and to volunteers Pat Abbey and Patrick Cardullo for valued assistance.

Pasadena San Gabriel Valley

by Jan Wickersham

Sunday September 5
Pasadena San Gabriel Valley Unit Game
San Marino Recreation Center

Much has happened in the bridge world since I last wrote the column. Let me begin with news from the Pasadena-San Gabriel Sectional. While bridge players were whooping it up in New Orleans, we were having our own version...Mardi Gras West. Our numbers were up considerably from last year, 30 more tables. Karen Arase and Joann Sasaki transformed the dining hall into something totally spectacular with their incredible decorations. It was Amr's idea to have a Jackpot game on Friday night, and, I believe those who attended had a great time. There were some mighty tough competitors that night. Unfortunately, no one came up with the magic 70% game.

I have so many people to thank for food donations. If your name is shown in CAPITALS LETTERS that means you committed to bring goodies for two days; KAREN ARASE, Barbara Baeskens, Judie Barrow, Janet Bennett, Shirley Betz, Georgiana Bierman, Diana Borgatti, PEGGY BRAIN, Carole Collins, Genevieve Collopy, Rita Corwin, Jeanette Deverian, Mary Downey, Gitta Earll, Jim Erpenbach, Mary Falvey, Sandra Franciscus, Margery Gould, MARGIE HALL, Miriam Harrington, Kathy Helber, Charo Holdo, Shiu-Ming Huang, Frank Jones, Pat Lile, Cathy Martin, Bernie Mateer, Marion Miller, Dominique Moore, Jerry Murbach, Nancy Nakanishi, OLLIE NORSWORTHY, Sofia Pineda, Ann Raymond, WEEZIE REICH, Sue Rottner, Joann Sasaki, Gary Swinhart, Abby Triback, JAN WICKERSHAM, and ANNA WILLIAMSON. A million thanks to all of you who gave so generously. So many yummy things to eat. Your contributions added tremendously to our sectional.

Doninique Moore was the winner of the John Waken Trophy...17.88 points. Rae Murbach was not far behind her with 16.69! Lots of our 299'ers took the spotlight. Genevieve Collopy and William Purdy swept the 299'er game on Friday. Ann Raymond and Margie Hall, David Solin and Clifton Cates, Anna Williamson and Carole Collins, and Andrew and Joerg Rottenbacher all took first place in various competitions in the 299'ers. Congratulations to you all. Paul Gelb and Margery Gould pulled off a first in the Open Pairs, and John Villalobos, Paul Nason, Gerry Belcher and Brad Beland won the Saturday Compact Knockouts. Plans are already underway for next year's event.

A week later came Eight Is Enough. We had a great turnout with 18 tables. Arlene Harvey does such an excellent job of directing, and bless her heart, this time she also ended up having to play. Seems some people didn't get the word, and she did what was necessary to make the game flow smoothly. Karen Arase, John Jones, Gitta Earll and Eli Wang were the big winners. And right as I am ending this news column, Gitta Earll goes over the top making Silver Life Master! What a month for Gitta!

Our next unit game falls on Labor Day Sunday. Hope you are around and plan to attend.

Thank your unit columnist by sending them news.

Pomona-Covina

by Vic Sartor

Saturday September 18
Pomona Covina Unit Game at 11 a.m.
lunch served

With the dog days of summer upon us, some lucky unit members escaped the area for cruises, tours, and family get-togethers, somewhat depleting our attendance numbers.

Of course, with most of the rest of the nation suffering from a record heat wave, they might have been a lot more comfortable here. As Tom Lill described his trip to his hometown, Niagra Falls, "It's a nice place to be from."

On a sad note, we lost another long-time player with the death of Florence Weinstein. Florence was a solid player who had been a fixture in our local clubs all the way back to the 1950's. She will be missed by her many friends and partners.

Last month's unit game was won by Clint Lew and Pat Radamaker, with Cordell Goode and Lary Alba taking 1st E/W. Bill Papa, Bud Robinson, Georgiana Bierman, Michael Horn, and Susan and Dave Ruoff finished in the overalls. The monthly individual was won by Rick Whitham, followed by Genise Hasan, Helen Wang, Richard Patterson, Linda Stuart, and Bud Robinson.

Lew and Radamaker's 68.4% was the top game of the month, edging a 67.3% by Lulu Minter and Bill Papa. Other club winners were Joe Unis, Walt Otto, Richard Patterson, JanWickersham, Amr Elghamry, Kathy Helber, Herman Helber, Roger Boyar, Louis Duner, Linda Stuart, Susan Ruoff, Herb Stampfl, Dwight Blackwell, Vic Sartor, Frank Jones, Clint Lew, Helen Wang, Lary Alba, and Dave Ruoff.

Unit players had some successes at recent sectional tournaments too. Tom Lill and Lynne Parker took 1st OA and 2nd OA in separate 200-300 MP events. Joe Unis and Mary Miller took 2nd OA and 1st OA in the same events. Lulu Minter and Fred Minter took 1st OA in Class B and 2nd OA in Class A Open Pairs. Bill Papa and Vic Sartor finished 3rd and 5th OA in Class A Open Pairs. Also placing in several events were Lary Alba, Karen McCarthy, Denise Morgan, and Genise Hasan.

Our hand of the month came up in one of those sectionals. Have you seen many 10-card suits? You hold:

♠x ♥KQJTxxxxxx ♦x ♣x

Your bid?

Several players just couldn't resist the urge to open this beauty 2♣! After all, they did have 9 sure tricks in hearts.

What could possibly go wrong? They quickly found out. They had forgotten that there were potentially THREE opponents at the table. They caught the opponent sitting opposite them with 19 HCP. When he asked about aces and got an ambiguous 1 or 4 reply, he had no problem deducing it was 4. Many eschewed Blackwood and just bombed into 6NT or 7NT! This was not a major success. The good news was that hearts split 10-1-1-1. The bad news was that one of the defenders had the stiff ace. It isn't often you see freely bid NT slams going down 5, 6, or 7 tricks, but they were as common as flabby thighs at a weight watchers meeting. Some partners just take a 2♣ bid too seriously.

Til next time...

Spotlight on Awards:

Unit 561 has two awards that are presented annually. This month we spotlight The Kaiser Award that was established by Roz Kaiser to honor her husband.

The award is presented to the player with fewer than 500 points who earns the most points at the Unit 561 Sectional. At the April 2010 Sectional Donna Massman won the Kaiser Trophy. The plaque honoring recipients of the Kaiser Award is housed at the San Fernando Valley Bridge Academy.

GUV Memorial Award

Recently I started against Gabriela “Gabby” Jackson with a four-board round. She was north and official score keeper for the table. As I remember, on the first 3 boards she wrote down the score wrong and had to be corrected. In all of these cases, the score she wrote down favored my partner and I. Maybe she thought we were so bad we needed a little help.

Several tables later director Ray Mack came over to the table I was playing at and asked the North player there for a correction. At the time I kiddingly blurted out “It was Gabby’s fault.” I think the score was written on the wrong line. This happened two or three times during the round. In each case the North player said they hadn’t played the board and the errors hadn’t occurred there. A few minutes later Ray said they had found the culprit and guess who it was. Right!

The WLA Sectional is happening the weekend this newspaper comes out. I’m hoping you come and discover that like the song says “a spoonful of sugar makes the medicine go down” and a brownie makes partner’s bids make more sense. There has been Fantasy Bridge long before all those other sports.

In September you have Rosh Hashanah, starting the New Year's with something sweet like Manichvitz. Yom Kippur fast broken with a sip of Manichvitz. Followed by Sukkot, when you sleep outdoors with your glass of Manichvitz. Spending all day in Temple and all night in a grass hut, Manichvitz is not what we need—we really need better booze.

The next big unit event is a Halloween Individual, Sunday Afternoon at the Beverly Hills Bridge Club. Game time is 1:00 and card fees are FREE! To make the event less spooky there will be enough two-buck chuck to help keep your sense of humor.

While this is a game that the best partner wins, you do not sign-up as a pair. You can come in a full costume or just a mask, which is never a bad idea in an Individual to hide the innocent (who was that masked maniac).

I saw some names I recognized in the winners at bridge week. KO's Pete Benjamin, John Campbell, J Steffes, Alan and Sherry Schneider- Swiss Mike Savage, Bill Wickham BAM Ellen and Bob Kent tied with Roger and Becky Clough Pairs Aram Bedros, Pam Wittes, Paul Smith, Bob & Sandy Carrolll.

Roger Clough found my lost rank changes, so here are two months of those climbing the Master Point ladder - Junior Masters Barbara Fransen, Lynn Evans, Katherine Weisberg,, Alan Solinger, Lorraine Snipper - Club Masters Edwin Bernstein, Doug Green, Donald Light, Sylvia Ziman, Sandy Slotkin - Sectional Masters Gloria Frankel, Richard Schulman, Michel Brand, Jerry Goodman, David Lyons - Regional Masters Elaine Schlecter, Dianne Sax - NABC Masters Richard Gliksman, John Stokdyk - Bronze LM Sally Karbelnig, Meredith Gibbs - Silver LM Hans Kraepelien - Gold LM Myrna Blaufarb.

In the there's nowhere but down from here... Bob Shore and Jordan Chodorow played for the first time and won the STaC with an 80% game. Other STAC winners were Fred Mautner & Viktor Anikovich, Lew & Rhoda Himmell, Betsy Lutz & Rahim Israel, Rick Turner & (the first time I get to write this) Elianna Meyerson.

People who were happy their 70% games weren't while Bob & Jordan had their 80% game were: Betsy Lutz & Rahim Israel, Fred Mautner & Art Cohen, Ruth Gittelman & Jeri Berger, Maria Pendergast & Joanne Minken-Levy, Toby Green & Sam Namer, Fumie Glenney & Chuck Fonorow, Aram Bedros & Paul Smith, Art Zail & Cyma Aronow, Chuck Maltz & Paul Smith, Steven Goldstein & Michael Shaw, Sandra Kaiser & Matthew Bergen.

Club champs at Beverly Hills were Art Cohen & Jeri Berger, Fred Mautner & Viktor Avikovich, Lew & Rhoda Himmell. At Barrington "A" Bob Levy & George Wagner, Sheri Rivera & Aram Bedros "B" Bob & Sandy Carroll, Suzanne Bornstein & Melinda Curry "C" Renne Wishengard & Mark LaVine.

While the Druids among you are celebrating the Autumnal Equinox, the rest of us are in the "Where The Hell Did This Year Go" despair. I guess the cure for your despair is to climb a tree and proclaim your inner Druid. On that note I'm going to hide in my treehouse 'til next month.

Dan Emmons and Carol Frank, tied for 5th in the Mini-Spingold II KO Teams; and Renee Mancuso, 4th in the Mixed B-A-M Teams.

If I have left any of the high finishers out, I humbly apologize.

By the time you get this edition of the SCBN, it will only be 1½ months until our next Regional Tournament in Marina del Rey at the Marina del Rey Hotel. Rooms are only $109 per night. Come and stay and play bridge on the edge of the water, looking out at the harbor and the boats. Plus, there is free parking!

Finally, our Regional-at-Sea for April 30 through May 7 has received our sanction from the ACBL and we are steaming full speed ahead to three ports along the Mexican Riviera. Join us for this luxurious event. This is where I will be taking my post tax-season vacation this year. Larry Cohen will be lecturing on a daily basis and all of the bridge, lectures, and even the end-of-the-cruise cocktail party are included for one fee. No money changes hand on the ship. I hope to see you there.

Problem Solvers' Panel

You, North, hold:

♠QT ♥--- ♦KQT973 ♣AJT98

What call do you make?

The primary choices look like a relatively conservative 3♦ call, a relatively aggressive 4NT call, an extremely aggressive 4♠ call, or a ultra conservative pass. See Shuster's comment for another view of what 4NT should mean. First let's hear from the panelist who believes 4NT should be natural.

Shuster: 3♦. When your playing strength greatly exceeds your high-card total, you can afford to bid slowly. While 4♠ would show both minors (4NT is natural), I want to let partner know my diamonds are longer. The real question is whether to bid 4♣ or 5♣ if partner responds 3♥— I'd vote for 4♣.

Now the 4NT bidders may speak.

Bell: 4NT. I might as well disappoint partner quickly that I don't have a heart fit. I may well be pushing us too high, but the opponents may have to guess at the five level as well.

Chechelashvili: 4NT. I strongly favor bidding 4NT instead of 3♦. 4NT is more descriptive and it hopefully prevents partner from bidding some number of hearts. It also may prevent LHO from bidding some number of hearts.

The rest of the 3♦ bidders may now have their say.

Bare: 3♦. No other bid comes to mind. This hand is far too weak to show both minors with a 4NT or 4♠ bid. [4♠ over a weak two bid is generally played by experts as both minors and slam invitational or better values.]

Dunitz: 3♦. Just 3♦ for now... the Bartusek approach - great to have extras.

Does Bartusek validate Mitch's prediction?

Bartusek: 3♦. This seems clear to me since you have so many playing tricks. If you don't bid now, then you will have a much more difficult problem whether partner balances with double, 3♥, or 2NT.

Prediction on target!

Mealy-mouth: 3♦. The auction is still young. Why go out on any limbs?

Sacks: 3♦. I have the wrong doubleton for anything else.

Swanson: 3♦. 4NT can't be justified at the vulnerability.

Wickham: 3♦. I'm planning to bid 4♣ over 3♥. I'll pass 4♥ over 3♦ or 4♣. I don't have enough hand to force to 5 of a minor.

This hand came from the Brazilian Bermuda Bowl final. Zia held this hand for the American squad and tried 4NT. Hamman, holding 2 diamonds, 3 clubs and not much of a hand, bid 5♣, but got doubled for -800. However, even knowing this result, I still think 4NT may be the right long term answer. 4NT shuts out hearts so effectively. I'll come back to the Bermuda Bowl later.

West	North	East	South
1♠	2♥	pass	4♥
dbl	pass	?

You, East, hold:

♠T3 ♥7 ♦J974 ♣K87642

What call do you make?

More double trouble. Is this double more takeout or more for penalties?

Bell: Pass. I'm influenced in that I know the hand, but to me this is a total trick problem whatever partner's double means. If the opponents are making 4♥, then we are likely to go down at least one in clubs. I opt for the very likely plus score.

Swanson: 4♠. Partner's double is takeout and I have no good reason to leave it in. 5♣ would be reasonable with a better suit. As it is I'll gamble on partner holding good spade cards.

Wickham: 5♣. 4♠ might be better if partner is 6-1-3-3.

Bartusek: 5♣. Close to passing, but the extra club and stiff heart convinces me to bid. Partner's double is more take-out than penalty. With some primarily defensive 16-18 HCP hands he would just pass and take the plus score.

Bare: 5♣. Partner should have convertible values.

Chechelashvili: 5♣. I have a 6-card suit, and I will only be happy if partner removes 5♣ to 5♦.

Mealymouth: 5♣. No, partner has not made a pennywise and pound-foolish penalty double in an attempt to turn +50 into +100, he has asked me to pick a game and I'm lucky enough to have a decent six-card suit in which to play it. Sorry, I haven't the guts to bid 6♣, but I am prepared to take the blame if he has ♠AKxxx ♥void ♦AK10x ♣Axxx and I make two overtricks.

Sacks: 5♣. This is not a trump stack double, they have 10 to 12 hearts.

Dunitz: 5♣. If partner has 4♥ beat in his own hand and a balanced hand, he should pass!

Shuster: 5♣. This is very clear for me. Weak distributional hands do much better when their long suit is trumps. There could be a double make, but not in spades.

I was playing with Leo Bell. Leo played the double primarily for penalties. Unfortunately, I played the double as a good hand mostly for takeout but with enough defense to probably beat them if partner doesn't have a place to takeout to. Leo held ♠KQ86x ♥Axx ♦A10x ♣QJ, which is not a hand I would have doubled with, but 4♥ does fail by a trick, while I went down two in 5♣. This hand came from the first round of a local section compact KO. Our misunderstanding, combined with the handicap we had to give, made sure that this was our only round of that KO.

You, West, hold: ♠AJ8753 ♥AT3 ♦85 ♣K3

- a) Do you agree with your previous bids?
- b) What do you bid now?

especially at rubber bridge. [Amen Brother Shuster!] While it won't surprise me to find that a grand is excellent (♠--- ♥xx ♦AKQxx ♣AQJTxx), even six could be in danger if partner has worse diamonds. Since I'll never stop short of 6♣ and do not see an easy way to explore for 7 without risking a dumb result (notice that the ♣10 is an important card for 7 in my example hand), I'll just bid what is in front of my nose.

Wickham a) No. I would have bid 3♥, not 3NT. b) 6♣. Easy, how would I have bid ♠KQxxxx ♥KQx♦xx ♣Kx?

Swanson a) Yes. I wouldn't even know what to suggest otherwise. b) 4♥. Three key cards opposite partner's presumed 5-6 minor hand look promising.

This hand came from a cut around rubber bridge game where the high level overbidding had been horrific. My partner won't be named here, but he is an occasional member of this panel when he isn't on behavioral suspension and refers to himself as "The Master of Competitive Bidding". He held ♠K ♥Q ♦Q10xxx ♣AJ8xxx. Yes he was 6-5, but that's not the hand I pictured. I tried only 5♣ which proved to be too much. The "The Master of Competitive Bidding" suggested (we all know how strong his suggestions are) that I bid 3♥ (I think that's ignoring the power of the ♥10) not 3NT, and that after 4♦ that I bid 4♥ so that I could pass his 4♠ bid. On the actual layout, only an inspired opening Bare a) Yes. b) 4♥. I will not stop below 6♣.

Bell a) I would have bid 3♥ over 3♦ to give partner more room to clarify their hand. b) 4♥. I have both major aces covered and the ♣K is a huge card. Partner may have a hand such as: ♠x ♥x ♦AKQxx ♣AQJxxx and a grand slam is a favorite.

Chechelashvili a) I believe 3♥ instead of 3NT is a better bid. b) 4♥ - followed by 5♣ or 6♣, depending on partner's bid.

Dunitz a) Previous bids seem normal. b) 4♥. I have a powerhouse in support of clubs. Second choice is 6♣. Even Bartusek would show life.

Does Mitch again predict Mark's action accurately?

Bartusek a) Yes, your previous bidding seems completely normal. b) 4♥. I'm not stopping short of 6♣ since partner should be at least 5-6 in the minors. I need to tell partner that I can cover his major suit losers, and that I have a good fit for one of his suits. It wouldn't surprise me if we're cold for 7♣.

Another bull's-eye for Mitch's prediction of Mark's action. Could it be we have a new partnership on the horizon?

Mealy-mouth: a) Yes, I agree with my previous bids. I know bidding 3NT is a dirty job, but somebody's got to do it, and it isn't my partner who may have ♥Jx or ♥Jxx. b) 6♣. A slam dunk. Partner has shown a game-forcing six-five in clubs and diamonds, and I have a pleasant surprise for him in clubs as well as the right kind of strength in the majors (aces that will cover any losers he has there). I could have had ♠KQ8753 ♥KQ10 ♦Q5♣43. If I tried to show my working cards individually, I would have to bid 4♥, 5♠ and then 7♣. That's too committal, even for a mealy-mouthed person like me.

Shuster: a) Yes. The previous auction was acceptable. I could live with 3♥ over 3♦ to get a last minute spade preference, but the ♥10 makes it too likely that NT is right even opposite a hand that might call 3♠ over 3♥ (which could even be a stiff honor, with say... ♠Q ♥Jx ♦AQxx ♣AJxxxx). b) 6♣. I hate cuebidding without having first agreed trump,

You, West, hold: ♠KQ9 ♥AT2 ♦AT97542 ♣---
 What call do you make?

Chechelashvili: 2♦. It should be easier to investigate the right game, unless partner passes, which might not necessarily be a bad thing.

Dunitz: 2♦. This is where I live. [I'm not sure that's good, your Encino home was so nice.]

Mealymouth: 2♦. Seven-card suits deserve respect. The auction is unlikely to die here, and having limited my hand now, I will probably be able to make a picture jump in spades later to show extras in the form of strong three-card support. Second choice: reverse into 2♥, support spades next, and then try to put on the brakes later ... perhaps too late.

Sacks: 2♦. This is from the Al Roth school of "if I get by this round, I will have a much better idea of what to bid." I also have sympathy for the very light 2♥ reverse and the "I have enough spades" 2♠ bid.

Wickham: 2♦. The Bridge World death hand. I'll try 2♦ with the knowledge that game might be missed, but if I get by this round of bidding ...!

Shuster: 2♦. I don't expect much (any) company here. [Shuster's crystal ball may need dusting, his answer is in the majority.] However, with only a 13 count and silent opponents at matchpoints, partner is very likely to be the one with the strong hand and hearing an unpressured call from him will really help me to evaluate. If partner does pass this, RHO will balance, so the danger is really non-existent.

Bare: 2♠. It's not clear how good a hand this is. If partner has long spades or a diamond fit, then this will be a very good hand, If in addition partner has little wasted in clubs, then it is a great hand. However, prudence dictates 2♠ at this point.

Bartusek: 2♥. The classic Bridge World bidding problem. Anything could be right including 2♦, 2♠, 3♦, or 3♠. A reverse allows me to quickly figure out if partner has a fifth spade (he would rebid 2♠); and if not, then I can get out in 3♦. Admittedly there are some hands where partner has 8-11 HCP without extra spade length where we might get too high.

Bell: 2♥. Yes, I know I only have 13 high card points, but as Marty Bergen says, points schmointz. I may have a great hand for spades or diamonds depending on partner's next bid. Over a 2♠, 3♦ or 3♥ rebid, I'll bid 3♠. Over a 2NT or 3♣ rebid, both of which could be bad hands, I'll rebid 3♦. The one bid I don't really want to hear is 3NT by partner, but I'm passing that.

Swanson: 2♥. This hand has the potential for generating lots of tricks should partner hold good spades or a big diamond fit. But there is no immediate descriptive bid. The best choice is to reverse despite holding only three hearts and only 13 HCP.

This is a composed hand. There was a hand in the Bridge World a while back (Swanson also remembered it) where panelists held a 14 HCP hand which didn't have quite as much playing strength as this hand. Several panelists reversed, and some of them commented that 14 is the minimum HCP for a reverse. This hand still looks like a reverse to me. If I wasn't going to reverse, I'd prefer 2♠ to the 2♦ rebid.

 What do you lead?

Sacks: This is bidding panel, not Master Solvers. I do not think there is a correct answer.

It's been so long since I included an opening lead problem that David forgot that that they were once common in this column. Michael Schreiber and Marshall Miles both used to put them in almost once a month. I've been meaning to try to include more opening lead problems.

Bell: I confess that I would lead a mundane 9♥.

Dunitz: ♥9.

Mealymouth: Lead the ♥9. You must have bid 5♥ for a reason. Why else but to direct an opening lead? When Futile Willie held this hand, he underled the ♣A, thinking that his double was a Lightner Double that urged himself to make an unusual lead. However, it was actually a Darkner Double that demanded the expected opening lead. A heart lead would have worked better, as partner would have won, switched to a singleton club, and obtained a club ruff.

Swanson: ♥9. I wouldn't seriously consider anything else at the table.

Bare: ♥9. If I was barred from leading a heart I would lead the ♣A. Apparently a heart lead did not work out.

Chechelashvili: ♣A. Very close between ♥9 and ♣A. 4♠ bid for some players is almost automatic with some number of spades. That's why I don't see definite sign that partner is short in spades. If he is not, then he might be short in clubs. I might still be able to recover if ♣A is a bad lead.

Shuster: ♣A. I'll be minus 850, no doubt. [That's another dusty crystal ball prediction, Michael.] I'll try for ruffs, hopefully by partner.

Bartusek: ♣A. On this auction partner is more likely to be short in clubs than the opponents. Obviously a heart is the pedestrian second choice.

Wickham: ♣A. If it wins maybe I'll know what to do next. [Yes, on the actual hand it will be obvious to continue clubs once you see the dummy.] Is the ♥9 so obvious? Partner only bid the suit once.

This is another hand from the Brazilian Bermuda Bowl (reported on the hands from my event in a previous column). Jeff Meckstroth lead the 9♥ and declarer made 5. His Italian counterpart found the ♣A lead and gave his partner a ruff. Unfortunately for him he had not found the 5♥ bid and was defending only 4♠. I admit I would have lead the ♥9 also. The two hands I used in this month's problems were both disasters for the Americans, but the Americans did win fairly handily. Americans bridge players individually are well received at world championships. However, the current political unpopularity of America leaves the rest of the world, except the Mexicans and Canadians rooting hard against American teams. Be prepared for that if you play in Philadelphia.

lead (K from KJxxx) will beat 3NT, and 4♠ can make against any defense. But 5♣ failed although the trumps were 3-2 with the finesse winning when diamonds failed to break 3-3. Too bad the auction wasn't competitive.
