Introduction to Declarer Play – Eddie Kantar

This is a recent purchase and was recommended by Peter Goddard. It is a companion book to Introduction to Defense. The forward talks about 'learning the fundamentals of declarer play: counting winners and losers, and the various methods at your disposal'.

This book has been 'revised and updated by Barbara Seagram to bring it into line with modern methods of play and bridge education'. There are twelve chapters, all very well set out and easy to read. Part 1 is playing a hand in no-trump and covers 7 chapters including the Rule of 11 and Hold-up play. Part 2 is playing a hand in suit contract and covers 5 chapters including counting losers and creating extra winners.
