

Morag Malcolm

October 2010

Scottish bridge lost a major figure when Morag Malcolm died last month. Morag's incomparable role was recognised when she was made honorary life president in 1995. This quote from nonagenarian Jimmy Allan sums her up: "I know of few who will equal Morag in her generosity, friendliness and eagerness to give all help possible to anyone at any time." Most of Morag's achievements were in organising successful events such as the visit of Omar Sharif's Bridge Circus in 1973 and the Glasgow City of Culture Congress. She was also a fine player who became our first Lady Grand Master in 1986. Morag won the Lady Milne Trophy, the Home Countries Women's International event, three times.
