Shipping Concerns:

“With regards to shipping, we can send out at a cost via an overnight courier, but these are quite long panels and there is no guarantee that they would arrive in one piece.

The courier companies will not insure against damages so the risk is on the shoulders of our customer.

Majority of deliveries are fine and get there in perfect condition, but there is always a possibility.

Just need to make them aware.”

Nicky: The length of these screens makes them quite fragile, if you cannot collect them, I would suggest looking into similar companies near you.

Price

In June 2020, it was £55+VAT for one table i.e two interlocking screens.
