How to set up a Howell movement

If there are 12 or fewer pairs it is best to set up a Howell movement.

Follow Steps 1 – 5 above and then, following the table below, amend Description according to the number of pairs that have signed up. Eg

+allavail+ +howell+ +rounds9+

The syntax is very important. There must be no capital letters and one space between the '+' symbols.

The above will work if there are between 10 – 12 pairs. If there are only 8 pairs then there can only be 7 rounds. If there are 6 pairs then there can only be 5 rounds. See the table below.

The number of rounds is always at least one fewer than the number of pairs.

The Format window also needs to be changed for a Howell to match the set up. Eg if the set up is:

+allavail+ +howell+ +rounds9+

Change the boards to 18 and the boards per round to 2.

When finished, remember to click on Modify tournament.

The table below provides a guide to help select the correct movement and boards according to the number of pairs that have signed up on 'Find a Partner'. Please note that if an odd number of pairs have signed up it will be necessary to add robots to make an even number.

Number of pairs	Description	Boards to play	Number of rounds	Boards per round
14+	+allavail+	21	7	3
10-12	+allavail+ +howell+ +rounds9+	18	9	2
8	+allavail+ +howell+ +rounds7+	21	7	3
6	+allavail+ +howell+ +rounds5+	20	5	4

How to copy a tournament

Instead of setting up a new tournament from scratch each week, it is much easier to copy one that has already been created. To do this click on Pending Tournaments. Select a tournament from the list, left click and choose Edit Tournament. Then choose Copy Tournament and make the necessary amendments for date/time/movement etc. Remember to click on Modify tournament when all the changes have been made.

The screenshot shows a 'Create Tournament' dialog box with a dark green header and a light blue background. The dialog is divided into four main sections: Identification, Directors, Time until start, and Format. At the bottom, there are three buttons: 'Modify tournament', 'Copy tournament', and 'Close'.
