Dear Members

We are now in week six and I expect to be 'hitting the keys', looking for quizzes and puzzles and teasing out some rhymes that come to mind for many more weeks to come. But I think we all need to accept we are in this for the long haul.

Not sure if you get the H.C.A newsletter but if not it is on the Association's website. A sad announcement in the May issue is the death of Betty Mumford, who was the lady President. And much nearer to home, I have even sadder news that many of you have probably already heard about, and that is the death of John Humphrey and Maureen Lee. Our thoughts and sympathies have been passed to Celia and her family and also to Maureen's husband Les, and their son, daughter and grandson.

I was cheered to get some responses to last week's film title quiz. There were a few tricky ones and the first correct answer to hit my inbox was from Mike Thacker so a prize will be winging its way to him in the fullness of time. For those of you who are still trying to work out the answers they are set out below:-

	Description of Film		Answer
1.	Robbery work in Rome	3,7,3	The Italian Job
2.	Negative Quack	2,2	Dr. No
3.	Battered Spuds	1,1,1,1	M.A.S.H
4.	Two American Soldiers	4	Gigi
5.	Breeze among trees	4,2,3,7	Wind in the Willows
6.	Animal Sanctuary Toilet	4	Zulu

Sitting at my laptop, gazing out of the window for inspiration I have to tell you

I should have been away on holiday this week
The Croatian Coast and sun I was hoping to seek
But I have to say when the sun is shining down here
It makes up for that trip that was quite dear

It is relaxing to sit outside without a care
And makes up for the hassle we have to bear
It is a delight to see some members on their walk
Along the cliff top as we stop, 2 metres apart, for a talk

That's all for now folks – stay safe, stay in but work out!!!
