

Dear Members

Risk Management

Stay alert – we must assess the risks
 What else can we do for kicks
 Cleaning, sewing and so much more
 What can we now do outdoors

We are still unable to be with you all
 But at some stage we will get the call
 So hone up your skills for bidding to game
 The challenge below may well bring you fame

Another double dummy for you to decipher
 Maybe you and your partner will conspire
 To give me your solution a.s.a.p
 For a prize to be sent to you from me

I have not had a correct submission to the Blockbuster quiz in last week's newsletter so, if you want to have a go, I am carrying over the quiz and holding back the answers until next week

My thanks go to Jasmine for the lovely picture below and a very topical caption!!!

HOW MANY MORE TIMES!!!. 2 metres you tit!!!

I have been working my way through a book called “121 Tips for better Bridge” by Paul Mendleson and have found it very good as a refresher to my game. I hope you will not mind me sharing some of the tips with you as and when my

Tip of the week – Look at the texture of your hand to help you judge the contract

When faced with close decisions look at the make up of your hand to decide whether to play in a suit contract or no-trumps.

For no-trumps look for Queens, Jacks, Tens, Nines and long minor suits. For suit contracts look for Aces, Kings, singletons and voids newsletter material needs a boost.

That’s all for now folks – stay safe, be alert, be sensible and don’t forget the 2 metre rule!!!
