

Dear Members of Malahide Regional Bridge Club,

When the situation is so awful...

When the pain is unbearable even to witness...

Not everyone responds with kindness. After all, it might be easier to turn away.

You did not turn away.

You opened your heart and shared your compassion with people in despair.

Thank you for your generous gift of 600 €. I'm so grateful to you!

Your gift feeds hungry people, provides clean water, and offers medical aid to people in urgent need. You are there, bringing live-saving help... and most of all hope... to people – here in Ireland or half a world away.

Your kindness is touching lives – people you may never know – but people who will know that someone special cares. Someone chose not to turn away, but to help.

With all my gratitude,

Liam O'Dwyer
Secretary-General, Irish Red Cross

P.S. Your gift is helping. You are saving lives and giving aid to people who are in urgent need. And we are so grateful to you!
