

Elaine Garofalo

My name is Elaine Garofalo. I have been active in the St Pete Bridge Club over the last 8 years. I am a married and have 4 grown kids and 3 grandkids, two of whom want to learn our game. I was a teacher of kids with attention deficit disorder and other common learning disabilities, which makes me uniquely qualified to work with bridge players.

As a bridge player I have tried to share my love of the game with whoever can stand to hear me blather on about it. In all seriousness, I am an ACBL certified teacher and director. While the club was experiencing difficulties, I coordinated the directors, helped Charlie with food procurement, and kept the calendar updated. I also helped with updating games on the website and using TeamViewer to update files.

I direct for the club for both on-line and face-to-face games and along with others make sure our games are running and growing.

My goal for the club is to keep it the club that was envisioned by Charlie, keep it growing and keep it friendly,
