

Swansea Bridge Club at 90

Swansea Bridge Club, the oldest Bridge Club in Wales, reaches its 90th birthday this year. It has been based in St James's Gardens for at least 70 years and has over 150 members ranging from beginners to those who have represented Wales in home international competitions.

On 13 May the Club held a party for all members starting with a fun Bridge competition offering lots of prizes followed by tea and birthday cake.

Swansea Bridge Club meets most weekdays and welcomes new members, visitors and beginners. It holds teaching sessions twice a week led by experienced players. Bridge is a great way to keep your mind active as well as a fun pastime, so why not give it a try and join one of our beginner's classes in September.

More information about classes and the Club's activities may be found on its website www.bridgewebs.com/swansea/
