PRESIDENT'S LETTER

by WBL President, Dick Wegman

The vitality of an organization such as ours depends on new players who join our unit and on players who achieve a level of skill worthy of recognition by the ACBL. I'm pleased to report that 2003 has been a very good year for the WBL on both fronts.

As many of you may know, we now have thriving group of new duplicate players who come every Thursday evening to the unit game. They are attending Steve Forsythe's 0-20 program for beginning bridge players and for more experienced social bridge players. Steve is an Air Force officer in operations research stationed at the Pentagon, and he began teaching bridge four years ago. Steve uses an "Instant Bridge Player" program that he designed, and he and his wife Sandy cover basic bidding and playing techniques that enable newcomers to start playing bridge quickly. The teaching is so effective that most of the students are playing duplicate bridge by their second session.

Anyone can join the program at any time. Steve works one-on-one with a new player who has just joined until he or she is ready to play with the rest of the group. As players acquire basic bidding and playing skills, they "graduate" after they win 20 master points and move on to play in the 199er game. The Instant Bridge Player program has become quite popular, and Steve's game now boasts six or seven tables every Thursday evening.

If you know of someone who might be interested in joining the program, please bring him or her with you on any Thursday evening — there is no need to register in advance. If anyone needs more information, they can reach Steve at 301-592-9177, or by e-mail at majslf@aol.com.

I'm also delighted to be able to welcome 26 new life masters who have won their gold pin over the past 12 months. This is one of the largest group of new life masters that we have had in the WBL in recent years. Please join me in welcoming them at our new life master party, to be held after the Friday evening game on January 9th at the Presidential Tournament, Our new life masters are Suzanne Abrams, Carole Banks, Howard Bender, Faye Burke, Michelle Contave, Joana Da Silva, Betsy Depristo, Bess Eastin. Leonid Fastovsky, Sandra Forsythe, Willa Garner, Susan Graham, Maurice Greenman, David Hamilton, David Harris, Nancy Jose, Charles King, Marshall Kramer, John Laurim, John Lowe III, Helene Oliver, Martin Reed, Mark Rosen, Penny Stover, Howard Tash and Lynn Weidman. Congratulations on a job very well done!

We're looking forward to a great year for WBL games and tournaments in 2004. I hope I'll see you there.

PARTNERSHIPS AND CARPOOLS

Need a Partner or a Carpool for Unit Games or Tournaments?

Players who would like assistance can obtain help either on-line or by contacting one of the WBL's partnership coordinators or Don Berman, the carpool coordinator.

- (1) On-Line Partnership Desk. The WBL has established an on-line partnership desk on its web site (www.washingtonbridgeleague.org). The WBL is the first unit in the country to do this. Sign up, indicate which events you are available for, and find out if other players are available for the games you wish to play in. Simply log on to the WBL website and click on the partnership desk. Please give it a try.
- (2) PartnershipCoordinators. For those who prefer assistance in person, three people have volunteered to help players find partners in advance of the unit game or sectional events. For the unit game, Barbara Shaw will assist players in Flights A/X (BarbShaw@comcast.net; 301-598-3339). Charity Sack will assist players in Flights B/C/D for the unit game, and all players for the sectionals (charity@charitysack.com; 703-963-7027). Please let them know as early as you can what game or events you would like to play in.

"I don't want to be difficult but you really shouldn't bid like that."

"My bids usually mean what they say but sometimes I have to just bid in order to keep it open."

"I don't mean to bid unusually but sometimes I just forget."

"It's my fault, I forgot to remind you so you wouldn't forget."

"Okay, I'll play with you again, but this time don't forget to say "no spades" when I try to revoke.

"Well, that's the way Mark Shaw plays it. I thought I would try part of his system. I guess I should have told you."

Really pithy remarks are encouraged. Please send your suggestions for publication to "Editor - Overheard." Contact information is listed on the inside front cover.

How do you show a very good hand with hearts and clubs? Some experts tried 4♦ but 4♦ shows both majors. What are they going to do when partner bids 4♠? Bid 5♣. Couldn't that be a spade slam try? ♠AKxxx♥AKQxx♦x♣Ax for instance. Some experts doubled but when partner bids spades, their club or heart bid will not show five of the other suit. Since double shows tolerance for spades, partner is going to rebid his five-card suit. How is double going to get you to the correct club or heart strain? I like 4NT showing the two lowest unbid suits. How bad can that be?

Two experts bid Michaels which shows both majors. Its very difficult to convince partner who heard your 4♦ bid, which conventionally shows five or more spades and five or more hearts, that you have only one spade.

Cappelletti: "4 ♦ ——No choice - if I double I can not expect to show a strong two-suiter. I expect the auction to proceed 3 ♦ -

4◆-P-4♠-P-6♣ by me showing two suits; hope partner has either some length or a useful card."

But why not bid 4NT showing clubs and hearts?

Hopkins: "4♦——The old way to bid this hand was to cuebid and if partner bid the wrong suit, to cuebid again. I hope my partner remembers. I can't think of anything else to do."

Three experts double. They violate the rule — Don't make a takeout double without support for unbid majors.

Humphreys: "Double—This hand is way too good to overcall 3♥. I considered 3NT, but this takes hearts out of the picture. I will rebid 3NT over partner's spade bid. This should show a big hand with no spade tolerance, since I would just bid 3NT with a balanced hand of this strength. Sure, I could just take my six tricks, but that would be pretty unlucky."

Double followed by 3NT shows tolerance for all suits. If you want to play 3NT, you bid it directly.

Woolsey: "Double—If partner tries to insist on spades, I am strong enough to bid both of my suits and hopefully get to the right contract. I don't see any other way to start."

Parker: "Double—I can't think of another bid that will give us a chance for finding the best contract. 3NT is out, too strong, overcalling either suit might lose the other one and understates the strength. Cuebidding will almost surely get 4♠ and then everything else sounds like a cuebid. So I will double and pull 3♠ to 4♣ which should get both suits into the picture."

Only four experts make a bid which does not imply having spades. At least if their partner bids spades, their partner will have spades. Three of those experts bid 4Ψ .

Adams: "4♥——Double and 4♦ are out, because they show different kinds of hands. Yes, I know we can be cold for slam in clubs, but how to find it I have no idea. Even if hearts is the wrong spot, will still probably make."

King: "4♥—I can't double with a singleton spade and I have to make a strong bid. Of course, 4♥ could be going down and we could be cold for 6♣, but I think this is the best starting bid."

Schwartz: "4♥——Ugh. Might try 4NT if my AK wasn't in diamonds. Don't like 3NT as they are just too likely to lead a spade."

Roman: "3NT—-A tough problem, but partner is just too likely to insist on spades if we start with double."

Over $3 \blacklozenge$, $4 \blacklozenge$ shows both majors, 4NT shows clubs and hearts. There is no bid to show clubs and spades.

How do you advance in a situation where there is no clear-cut advancing bid available? 1♠ and 2♣ both show five-card suits, a raise to 2♥ shows three and 1NT shows a diamond stopper. Which white lie do you tell? Since partner could have 16 HCPs, you can't pass so what's your poison?

Two experts bid their four-card black suits. Works if partner has four-card support or a strong heart suit that he rebids but you would be anxious if your bid ended the auction.

Parker: "2. ——If it is not our hand I want a club lead. If it is our hand, partner's next bid will allow me to do something intelligent, I hope!"

Seven experts agree with me and bid notrump. Who needs a stopper?

Adams: "1NT—-With my wife I can bid 1 ♠ and only show four, but the world is different. Pass too wimpy. I show a stopper, but this is a situation where partner knows to tread carefully before bidding 3NT."

King: "1NT—My hand is too good to pass. My spades are too weak to bid. I could bid 2♣ although I should have another club, or I can bid 1NT which lacks a stopper, but seems the best way to show this hand."

Woolsey: "1NT—In my book a 1♥ overcall virtually denies four spades, since with five hearts and four spades he could double and then bid hearts — equal level conversion. The balanced hand looks perfect for notrump. About the diamond stopper well, maybe partner will have one."

Roman: "1NT—-Yes, a diamond stopper would be nice, but I accurately and cheaply describe the range and nature of my hand to partner and listen to what he has to say for himself."

But maybe partner has four spades but not enough to double. $\triangle Qxxx \lor AKxxx \diamondsuit xx \clubsuit xx$ for example.

Hopkins: "1NT—-This shows 8-10 balanced. Guess what I have. And, of course, if I get a vicious double, I can rethink my position."

Humphreys: "1NT—New suit by advancer should show no tolerance for the overcall suit and typically five cards. A good partner will have a diamond stopper."

Schwartz: "1NT—Too much to pass and what would I do if LHO rebids 2 ♦? Will be well placed if partner takes another bid."

When you have the correct strength for 1NT, the lack of a stopper should not deter you from bidding it.

You have a very good passed hand but there is no obvious eight-card fit. Do you go low by bidding $2 \spadesuit$, or do you get aggressive by raising hearts or bidding 2NT.

Three experts agree with me and take the low road. If partner has extra values he's allowed to bid again. Partner's in third seat and could have a bad hand. One should not base his bidding solely on the possibility of a light third hand opener but even if partner has a normal opener, $2 \spadesuit$ could be the limit. Give partner $\spadesuit A10xxx \heartsuit AJxx \diamondsuit Jx \clubsuit Qx$ and $2 \spadesuit$ will probably make eight tricks.

Cappelletti: "2♠—-Vulnerable at IMPs I bid 3♥ or 3♠; but at matchpoints, I go plus and welcome bad splits."

King: "2♠—My hand is too strong to pass 2♥, but I don't want to bid 2NT and risk a minus score. 2♠ gives partner a chance to bid again with extras and should help protect our plus score if partner has a weak third seat opener."

Schwartz: "2♠—-Underbidding by only a point and again will be will placed if partner takes another bid. Don't want to punish partner for opening light in third position."

Two experts raise hearts. They violate the rule — Don't raise a second suit, when it could be a four-card suit, holding only three.

Adams: "3 ♥ — 2NT just looks wrong. 2 ♠ too weak. Nothing left. I owe a heart, but the eight points in majors should be most welcomed. This hand rates to be played better from partners side... around to his diamond guard if he has one. And if not, notrump is really bad."

Woolsey: "3 ♥—-I don't like raising partner's second suit with three, but it looks best here. The hand is wrong for 2NT with three small diamonds. If partner is 6-4 he will remember to bid $3 \spadesuit$ over $3 \heartsuit$ and we will get to the right contract."

Since partner knows you have four hearts when you raise, he might not make the safety bid of 3 \(\hbig) with 6-4.

Three experts bid 2NT. Who needs a diamond stopper?

Humphreys: "2NT—2NT expresses the values here. $3 \clubsuit$ would show a much worse hand, $2 \spadesuit$ is a simple preference, $3 \spadesuit$ is silly, and $3 \blacktriangledown$ with a balanced hand and only three-card support seems uncalled for. If partner rebids $3 \blacktriangledown$ I will raise to $4 \blacktriangledown$."

Hopkins: "2NT—-After 2NT, I play three-of-either-major is non-forward-going and three-of-a-minor is a "pattern-out" bid showing extras and helping me choose our best spot. This should help us avoid an ignominious 3NT when partner has, say, a singleton diamond."

Roman: "2NT—-See answer to problem two."

One expert shows a three-card limit raise in spades. One spade short but the strength is right. If opener has ★AQJxx♥AJxx◆xx♣Qx, 4♠ makes unless suits split very badly.

Parker: "3♠—I wish I could bid 3 sparts. I have too good a hand to take a simple preference and hope that with a 5-5 partner will rebid 4♥ to give me a choice. Of course we may be too high by then but I do have great working cards."

When you don't have an eight-card fit, stay low. Don't go out of your way to protect partner when he opens in third seat.

Partner has shown strength and length in the minors and we have strength and length in the majors. That tells me that we have a likely misfit and should play this hand in notrump. The problem is that the only way to get to 3NT is to bid 3NT now. If we bid three-of-either-major, partner could continue on his path of showing minors. Two experts agree with me and make the practical bid. For the two out of ten times you find partner with spade support, there will be eight out of ten times when he doesn't. On those eight out ten hands, you want to avoid playing five-of-a-minor at all cost and the best way is to bid 3NT.

Cappelletti: "3NT—-If partner persists with $4 \clubsuit$ or $4 \spadesuit$, then I bid $4 \spadesuit$."

Woolsey: "3NT—This is our most likely game, and if I don't bid it now we may not get there. If partner has spade support, I can only hope that he will risk 4♠. This bid would be a lot more comfortable playing Cole, where partner can use the 2♣ rebid to show a good hand with spade support."

Cole is a convention where you give up the natural 2.4 rebid in order to be able to show many different hand types including three-card spade raises of various strengths.

Five experts bid $3 \spadesuit$. If partner does not have anything in hearts, he will bid four-of-some-minor which bypasses 3NT, the most likely game. $3 \spadesuit$ almost guarantees having to rebid $4 \spadesuit$, playing opposite anything including a void.

Adams: "3♠——This suit plays opposite a stiff, or maybe a void. Hard to see 4♠ going set. 3NT could have trick problems, and does not really leave room for more descriptive bidding. 3♥ is wrong. It does not show hearts. I will have no idea what is going on when partner bids again."

King: "3♠—-I think I should rebid this suit as the most important feature of my hand."

Hopkins: "3♠—I am looking towards slam or game in spades unless overruled by partner."

Roman: "3♠—A breather after three very tough problems. Natural, forcing, and a hand too strong to merely bid 3NT."

Schwartz: "3 ♠—-Slam is in the ballpark only if partner can raise. If partner rebids a minor, we should have enough stuff to make 4NT. 3♥ doesn't really show hearts so no point to it. On some hands would consider a preference in a stiff, but if partner is all minors, will work out badly here."

If partner rebids $4\clubsuit$ over $3\spadesuit$, do you really expect him to pass 4NT?

Two experts bid $3 \lor .3 \lor$ should show hearts because with a non-descriptive hand, one should bid $3 \lor$ allowing opener to complete his description. At least partner can bid 3NT over $3 \lor$ knowing that you have something in hearts.

Parker: "3 ♥ — I am afraid if I bid 3NT, partner with three spades, will pass and we may miss a slam. I can bid 3 ♠ but partner will be hard pressed to bid 3NT if he has no heart stopper. Over 3 ♥ he can bid 3NT or show spade support. Give him ♠ Axx ♥ x ♠ AKxxx ♣ AKxx and we should make 6 ♠. If he has long running minors then we will get to 3NT."

Humphreys: "3♥—We're in a forcing auction, so I'll show my second suit. Clearly my sequence shows at least five spades, so partner should take a preference to 3♠ with two-card support. That way, partner can bid 3NT with some 1354 or 0264 19 count. If partner bids 3NT I will pass, but if he bids 3♠ I want to try for slam. Unfortunately, there isn't a good way to do that and still stop in 4♠, so I guess I'll have to ask for keycards. This is a tough hand."

Sometimes is right to make a practical bid. 3NT is a practical bid.

Again partner has overcalled, but this time at the two-level, and you have to decide how to advance with no clear-cut bid. Passing is also an option. Since partner could have a very good hand, passing could cause you to miss a cold game. Partner's 2♥-overcall shows an opening bid and a good heart suit. Opposite a minimum overcall such as Axx♥AQJxxx◆x&Kxxx, 4♥ has play and partner could have a 16-count. The two popular expert choices are raising hearts or bidding 3 ♦. Raising hearts has the advantage that if there is a game it figures to be in hearts. Bidding diamonds has the advantage that you will get a diamond lead if you become defenders.

Five experts agree with me and raise hearts. One of them even makes a limit raise. That 10-9 of hearts is very strong.

Cappelletti: "3 ♥—-If I bid 2 ♠ partner might play me for a better hand."

King: "3 ♥——I have extra high card points, but I am short a heart, so I hope these cancel out and this bid works."

Roman: "3 ♥—Too much to pass, and with the expected spade lead, this hand could play very nicely for partner."

Schwartz: "3 ♥ —-2 ♠ is possible, but partner will expect another bid from me if he bids a minor. The 10-9 of hearts are big cards, particularly at matchpoints."

10-9 doubleton is a strong two-card holding.

One expert shows a limit raise. Light a heart but 10-9 is worth three.

Adams: "2♠—-Shows a limit raise, but could be a doubleton. Perfect."

Three experts bid their five-card suit. Partner should expect some heart tolerance since you're a passed hand. If the opponents compete, you'll get partner off to the best lead. If I had two little hearts, I would bid 3 ♦ but the 10-9 doubleton looks so powerful. By bidding 3 ♦, you might endplay partner into bidding 3NT with only one spade stopper on a hand where 4 ♥ is where you belong. ♠ Axx ♥ AQJxx ♦ xx ♣ Axx for instance.

Humphreys: "3 ♦ ——Can't pass, can't raise, can't bid notrump. 3 ♦ stands out. I think that since I'm a passed hand, partner should work out that I have heart tolerance. What kind of hand would correct a 2♥ overcall to 3♦ but couldn't open in first seat non-vul? Impossible. So I think this sequence shows two hearts, a good diamond suit, a maximum hand, and no spade stopper. Partner will know what to do. He always does."

Woolsey: "3 ♦ —-This should probably be fit-showing by a passed hand, but whether it is or not the call looks about right."

Hopkins: "3 ♦ —-Bidding what I have? I feel free to pass 3♥."

One expert passes. His partner must not have much when they overcall.

Parker: "Pass—Unlike problem two, we are getting too high if I bid diamonds and partner has no fit. I have enough good stuff to sit for a possible double and the opponents rate to bid 2. Over that I can bid 2NT or double depending on our agreements."

10-9 doubleton is worth more than three little.

COMITTEE ACTION XLIV

Part I

by Rich Colker, rcolker@worldnet.att.nat

The principality of Monaco is as close to the perfect place to hold a World Bridge Championship as you're likely to find, what with its rugged, spectacular scenic beauty (it lies on a stretch of the Mediterranean coast called the Côte d'Azur, sheltered to the North by the French Alps, situated between Nice and Menton, just a stone's throw from the Italian border), great restaurants and quaint old-world charm. And of course the casino at Monte Carlo, located just across the street from the playing site, didn't hurt any judging from the reactions of many of the players.

The tournament went smoothly with only eight appeals heard up until the final day of the tournament. Then all hell broke loose. On the final deal of the final segment of the Bermuda Bowl final between USA 1 and Italy, this case arose.

This being the final board, as soon as the opening lead was made South, Alfredo Versace, bounded out of the room to join his teammates in the Vugraph theater, leaving his partner, Lorenzo Lauria, to pull his cards from dummy himself. (The significance of this will soon become apparent.) East led the $\clubsuit A$ and shifted to the $\blacktriangledown K$ to declarer's ace. Declarer played the $\blacktriangledown J$ (hoping to pin the ten), covered by the queen and ruffed, ruffed a club to hand with the $\spadesuit 8$ and then ruffed his small heart looking for the ten to fall. No such luck. Declarer then resignedly passed the $\spadesuit K$ (J, 2) to East's ace in the following position:

At this point North knew he would be two down as soon as East cashed his ♥10. Seemingly in anticipation of this he reached across the table and pulled the \clubsuit 7, presumably to pitch on the heart. But Soloway, who had been given the wrong count in the heart suit by Hamman, "knew" that his ♥10 was not cashing so he led a low spade hoping to give Hamman a spade ruff. Declarer then tried to change his play from dummy to the ♠ Q and pandemonium broke loose—not just at the table but in the Vugraph theater as well. The Director was called and North told him that he was "covering up" the ♠K with the seven. (The AK had been played to the previous trick and, because dummy was absent, was still face-up on the table.) The Director ruled that the $\lambda 7$ was a played card and assigned the score for 5 ♦ doubled down two, -300 for N/S.

This one trick difference in the result on this board could hardly have had a more profound effect on the match. If the Americans scored +300 they would win the match, and the 2003 Bermuda Bowl, outright—by 1 imp—while if they scored +100, after 128 boards of play, the match would be a dead tie and an eight-board playoff would be required to determine the World Champions.

Amid great tumult the Italians appealed the Director's ruling. North told the Committee that he had picked up the small spade to "cover the king," and demonstrated his meaning, but he insisted that his intention was to play the queen. East said he had heard the seven named and both East and West had seen declarer touch the \clubsuit 7. West following with the ten. North protested that he had not named the card he was playing and that his intent was to play the queen. (The Committee resolved this matter by deciding it was unlikely that declarer would have called a card for a dummy who was not at the table. It was their opinion that the naming of the card was by the Vugraph caller.)

The Committee asked the Chief Director to explain the applicable law to them, which is:

Law 45C3: A card in the dummy must be played if it has been deliberately touched by declarer except for the purpose of arranging dummy's cards, or of reaching a card above or below the card or cards touched.

The Committee decided (appropriately) that declarer had touched the $\int 7$ and had not provided any compelling evidence that he had done so for the purpose either of adjusting dummy's cards or of reaching for the queen. (By the above law, picking up the card in order to place it on top of a played card commits declarer to playing the card.) Having not heard anything in the evidence that persuaded them that the Director's ruling was incorrect, the Committee upheld the Director's ruling.

In what many bridge journalists now consider the most exciting finish in Bermuda Bowl history, USA 1 (Nick Nickell, Dick Freeman, Bob Hamman, Paul Soloway, Eric Rodwell, Jeff Meckstroth) had gone from 28 imps up at the start of the final 16-board segment to down 11 imps with only one deal left to play, and had emerged the victors by a single imp. Who says 1 imp can't matter?

The tabulation continues here as described in our last issue, with the addition of giving both a weighted and unweighted average result where relevant. The next issue will continue publishing the results.

In this issue, we will focus on responding to 1NT openers. Once partner opens 1NT, she shows 15-17 HCP in a balanced hand. Responder can very accurately determine the combined partnership's assets, and place the final contract. Let's look at some of the tools available to responder:

STAYMAN:

One of the most frequently used conventions is Stayman. When opener bids 1NT, she may or may not have a four card major. It is important to determine if the partnership has an eight card major suit fit. Stayman is a 2.4 response to a 1NT opener. Opener will rebid as follows:

Opener	Responder
1NT	2♣ (Stayman)

Opener Response Staymar	e to	Opener's Plan
2♦	I have no four card major	Await further direction from partner
2♥	I have four hearts	I may also have four spades. Partner will provide further direction
24	I have four spades and don't have	Await direction
	four hearts	from partner.

There are some interesting points to observe in the above table:

L Opener is always dependent on partner to provide further direction. Opener's hand is very clearly defined to responder. Responder's hand is still a mystery to opener. Responder is the captain of the auction and will direct the partnership to the proper final contract.

- 2. Without a four card major, bid 2 ♦ . This call is completely artificial. It says nothing about your diamond holding. Partner will recognize this, and act accordingly.
- 3. With two four card majors, respond in hearts. Partner still has room to show spades if appropriate.

Let's try a couple of examples:

The auction proceeds as follows with you as South:

SOUTH	$\underline{\text{WEST}}$	NORTH	EAST
1NT	P	2♣	P

Your hands:

A.	B.	C.
♠ AK43	♠ A76	♦ 432
♥ A32	♥ A75	♥ AT43
♦ Q75	♦KQJ	♦ KQJT
♣ K98	♣ K875	♣AK

A. Bid 2 . Show your four card major.

B. Bid 2 ♦. This call is artificial. You are just denying a four card major. The call says nothing about your diamond holding

C Bid 2♥. This shows four hearts

D.	E.	F.
♠ KQJT	♠ A2	♠AKQJ
♥ AT98	♥ 6543	♥ 5432
♦J75	♦AQJ7	♦ K54
♣ AQ	♣ KQ4	♣KJ

D Bid $2 \checkmark$. This shows four hearts. You may also have four spades.

 $\underline{\underline{\mathbf{E}}}$ Bid $2\,\underline{\mathbf{v}}$. Yes, your heart suit is poor, but you are still obliged to show your four card suit.

E Bid 2♥. Even though your spades are much better, you should still show your four card heart suit first.

In our next issue, we will focus on how to continue after a 1NT opener, and a 2.4 Stayman response.

VOLUNTEERS WANTED

Steve Forsythe is the new volunteer coordinator for the Washington Bridge League. He's making two lists:

- 1) Volunteers who might be willing to play with someone who's looking for a partner, and
- 2) Volunteers who might be willing to play to help out at a sectional. For example, we will need help taking winners pictures at the sectionals after each session. We may need help with hospitality: i.e., baking or shopping. Once Steve has this list, he can just send out an email whenever a need arises.

Please email Steve Forsythe at majslf@aol.com or call him at 301-592-9177 with the following information:

- (a) name, email, phone,
- (b) volunteer to help (Y/N),
- (c) volunteer to be a partner (Y/N)

This a great opportunity to meet people, make new partnerships, and have fun! You can volunteer to help, or be a partner, or both. He's not asking you to commit to anything specific yet, and you can always say no. So please consider adding your name to our database of people who would like to hear from us when we need a little help.

Thanks!
